TO: Higher Education Committee

FROM: John L. D'Agati

SUBJECT: Proposed Amendments to Section 52.21 and Part 80 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education and the Addition of a New Subpart 57-4 to the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education Relating to Coursework or Training in Harassment, Bullying and Discrimination Prevention and Intervention

DATE: February 4, 2013

AUTHORIZATION(S):

SUMMARY

Issue for Discussion

Should the Board of Regents amend section 52.21 and Part 80, and add a new Subpart 57-4 to the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, relating to requirements for coursework or training in harassment, bullying and discrimination prevention and intervention as prescribed in the Dignity for All Students Act ("Dignity Act")?

Reason(s) for Consideration

Required by State statute.

Proposed Handling

This item will come before the Higher Education Committee for discussion at its February 2013 meeting. The amendment will be submitted for action at the May 2013 meeting.

Procedural History

A Notice of Proposed Rule Making concerning the proposed amendment will be published in the State Register on March 13, 2013.

Background Information

The Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) added Article 2 to the Education Law (Education Law §§10 through 18), to require, among other things, school districts to create policies and guidelines to be used in school training programs to discourage the development of discrimination or harassment and to enable employees to prevent and respond to discrimination or harassment. These provisions took effect on July 1, 2012.

In June 2012, the Legislature enacted Chapter 102 of the Laws of 2012, which amended the Dignity Act to include a requirement that school professionals applying for a certificate or license on or after July 1, 2013 complete training on the social patterns of harassment, bullying and discrimination.

In response to the new law, the Department consulted with a work group, which was comprised of representatives of teachers, administrators, school social workers, school counselors, school guidance counselors, school psychologists, superintendents, school boards, teacher education program faculty, GLESN and Empire Pride Agenda to seek recommendations on how many hours and the types of training needed to ensure that school personnel have adequate training in harassment, bullying and discrimination. The work group recommends that the following actions be taken:

- Part 52 of the Commissioner's Regulations be amended to require teacher and school leadership preparation programs to include at least six hours of training in Harassment, Bullying and Discrimination Prevention and Intervention.
- A new Subpart 57-4 of the Commissioner's Regulations shall be added to establish standards under which the Department will approve providers of this training.
- Part 80 of the Commissioner's Regulations be amended to require that anyone applying for an administrative or supervisory service, classroom teaching service or school service certificate or license on or after July 1, 2013, shall have completed at least six clock hours of coursework or training in Harassment, Bullying and Discrimination Prevention and Intervention.

This item was brought as a discussion item to the January Regents meeting. At that meeting, the Board requested additional information regarding the qualifications of the providers and what the content of the workshop would be.

Subsequent to the January Regents meeting, the work group met to discuss the information requested by the Board. As a result of that meeting, the work group identified the following major content areas that must be included in the training:

- Understanding the intent components, and operational definitions of the Dignity Act.
- Developing sensitivity to the experience of specific student populations.

- Understanding how school climate and culture have an impact on student achievement and behavior.
- Understanding bullying, harassment and discrimination, including indicators, early warning signs, prevention and intervention and how to interact with families of victims and aggressors.
- Understanding diversity and multi-cultural environments and examining your own biases.

The work group also recommended that the providers may be teachers' or professional organizations or associations, school districts, boards of cooperative educational services, nonpublic schools, educational institutions or related agencies with an educational affiliation.

The provider must have adequate resources to offer the coursework or training in Harassment, Bullying and Discrimination Prevention and Intervention, and use a curriculum which, at a minimum, includes the syllabus prepared by the department. The approved provider must ensure that any persons they have hired to teach the workshop will have demonstrated by training, education and experience their competence to teach this training which must include addressing social patterns of harassment, bullying and discrimination, including but not limited to those acts based on a person's actual or perceived race, color, weight, national origin, ethnic group, religion, religious practice, disability, sexual orientation, gender or sex, the identification and mitigation harassment, bullying and discrimination, and strategies for effectively addressing problems of exclusion, bias and aggression in educational settings and instructors should demonstrate knowledge of the Education Law as it relates to the Dignity for All Students Act. The Department may review approved providers during the term of their approval to ensure the competence of their instructors and may request information from a provider at any time regarding their instructors' competence to teach these courses.

The work group has also recommended that at least three of the six hours of training be conducted through face to face instruction.

The proposed amendment has been amended to incorporate their feedback and to address your concerns.

Recommendation

Not applicable.

Timetable for Implementation

If adopted at the May meeting, the proposed amendment will become effective on July 1, 2013 and candidates seeking certification or a license on or after July 1, 2013 will be required to have such coursework or training.
