- The State Archives located, within the voluminous court records in its collection, the original 1828 lawsuit filed by Sojourner Truth to free her son, Peter, who had been illegally enslaved. Resources include research from historians, access to digital collections, virtual lessons and activities for the classroom, CTLE certified professional development videos for educators, and information about upcoming public programming that relate to African American History.
- In January the State Museum offered a CTLE accredited and NYS P-12 Science Learning Standards supporting teacher workshop, “Evolution and Ecology: Faunal and Human Responses to Climate Changes”. This virtual workshop directly served 70 teachers and provided 8 hours of CTLE credits.
- The New York State Library has acquired the complete works of award-winning Abraham Lincoln scholar and historian Harold Holzer. The acquisition covers Mr. Holzer’s 49-year career as a writer, lecturer, and historian specializing in President Lincoln and the political culture of the Civil War era.

What are Children's Cabinets?

Imagine if leaders of all the agencies and organizations that serve children and youth in your community came together at one table to improve their collective ability to meet the needs of kids. Picture your superintendent talking with your head of libraries, strategizing with your health commissioner, and collaborating with your summer and after school providers to create a civic ecosystem that enables all children to thrive. We call this a children’s cabinet... By seamlessly coordinating the supports and services that your community provides, children’s cabinets address young people’s holistic needs as they grow and develop.

Research shows that 2/3 of the variance in student achievement can be explained by out-of-school factors (home environment, health issues, poverty, food insecurity).

Socioeconomic status continues to be the leading determinant of educational achievement in the United States.

Working Group Approach

The Civic Design Framework

This section presents a framework that could be useful for your group in thinking about how to work together and how to incorporate inclusive public engagement into your work. The Civic Design Framework explained here was developed by The Peace at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, by Professor Cesar McDowell and his colleagues. The Peace is "a movement to rebuild our public’s muscle for democracy" and "our public’s resilience for the difficult conversations necessary for a functioning democracy." The Civic Design Framework includes two components that may be useful to your group:

Civic Design Phases:
1. Framing: creating a shared understanding
2. Ideation: offering possible solutions
3. Prioritizing: weighing the value choices
4. Deciding: agreeing on paths forward
5. Implementing: following through on commitments
6. Monitoring: being accountable

Civic Design Principles:
- Margins
- Collaboration
- Equity
- Systemic Change
- Ecological Solutions
- Analog + Digital
- Multiple Forms of Expression
- Healing

Resources

These resources can contribute to your Working Groups’ collective understanding of strategies and solutions for systemic change. Some of the resources are centered specifically around child development and educational achievement, while others highlight systems change approaches in community development that have the potential to build a sustainable infrastructure that supports children, youth, and families.

These examples are presented to provide Working Group members with information on some of the leading evidence-based child and youth development programming in the country.

Integrated Health and Human Services:
- City Connects: An evidence-based systemic approach to supporting the whole child needs of students through an individualized system of in-school and community supports and resources to address the out-of-school factors that impact learning
- The Poverty Solution: A tool and methodology that identifies the potential of families and communities to lift themselves out of poverty through a multidimensional approach

OUT-OF-SCHOOL PRELIMINARY RECOMMENDATIONS

1. CREATING A CITYWIDE OST SYSTEM

1. Invest in the programmatic and technical capacity of the new Division of Youth Opportunity and Development in City Government.
2. Create inter-municipal and interagency collaborations
3. Identify a nonprofit umbrella organization to accompany City Government in fostering coordination and collaborations within the Out-of-School sector

2. ESTABLISH SUSTAINABLE FINANCING FOR OST

1. Create a Fiscal Map of Youth Spending
2. Create a Local Dedicated Out-of-School Time Fund
3. Promote collaboration between nonprofit providers and the funding community in obtaining funding at the local, state, and federal levels.

3. STRENGTHEN EQUITY, INCLUSION, BELONGING, AND CIVIC CULTURE

1. Create a permanent citywide infrastructure for family/community engagement across multiple institutions
2. Commission a citywide study on the current state of out-of-school time programming in our community
3. Transportation: Develop citywide public-private partnerships to remove barriers to transportation that prevent children, youth, and families from participating in out-of-school programs.
The Cabinet's Youth Engagement Campaign

Focus Group Research Team:
What changes do young people want to see in key issue areas?

Local Policy Research Team:
How do we make changes to policies, resource allocation, and laws to make that vision real?
What should a permanent citywide youth engagement infrastructure look like?

Recommendations:
Prioritized by the Children’s Cabinet for Citywide Implementation

6 PCSD Alum from local higher education institutions trained as Youth Researchers
The Local Policy Research Team's Work Continues:

- FUNDING: Kresge Foundation providing funds for mini-grants to support Action Cohort participation
  - $15,000 per cabinet to help cover staff time, coordination, and planning needs
  - Focus on capacity – preparing adult partners, systems, and decision-makers to share power with youth

- PLANNING: Prepare our cabinet – in collaboration with key stakeholders – to activate a youth data squad or youth advisory council that will use YPAR research methods to recommend and influence policies to decision-makers that will address root-cause inequities in the community.

- ROLLOUT: In March 2022, the team will share the blueprint for a program rollout with projected funding needs for a Youth Advisory Council for implementation in coordination with partners.
INDIVIDUALIZED SUCCESS PLANS:

The Poughkeepsie Children’s Cabinet launched an integrated student support system pilot in Poughkeepsie Middle School in Fall 2021 in partnership with Poughkeepsie City School District (PCSD) and Dutchess County Government’s Path to Promise initiative.

The partnership will implement the nationally-renowned City Connects program from the Boston College Lynch School of Education. City Connects is the most rigorously evaluated student program of its kind in the nation and will facilitate the development of individual success plans to support the in-school and out-of-school needs of students. Through a robust real-time data platform and professional development system, it will support evidence-based decision-making related to children, youth, and families in PCSD.

Local Dedicated Children’s Funds

A local dedicated children’s fund is city, county, or school district revenue that voters elect to dedicate to services for children and youth provided outside the school day. Establishing a local dedicated fund requires a broad coalition of advocates, parents, business leaders, intermediaries, local funders, and policymakers.

Preschool For All

Preschool for All will give 3- and 4-year-olds in Multnomah County access to free, high-quality, developmentally appropriate, culturally responsive preschool experiences.

The Preschool For All Plan

The Preschool for All Plan reflects more than two years of engagement with community members including parents, educators, culturally specific organizations, policy makers and early childhood specialists. Preschool for All:

- Allows families to choose the type of preschool experience that is right for their child.
- Increases wages and provides professional development for early educators.
- Ensures community-based oversight through a Preschool for All Advisory Group.

Preschool for All will grow over time, increasing the number of children and families that it serves each year until it is universally available.

All families in Multnomah County will be eligible to apply and families who currently have the least access to high-quality preschool will be prioritized for the first-available slots. Children who currently experience barriers to preschool include Black, Indigenous, and all children of color, children whose families live under the Self-Sufficiency Standard and children with developmental delays and disabilities, among others.

Denver Afterschool Alliance partners with Cityspan to support inter-agency data sharing

WRITTEN BY KARA JOHNSON | FEBRUARY 22, 2020

The Denver Afterschool Alliance recently relaunched DAAConnect to promote collaboration among the City’s youth development providers and professionals. Managed by the Denver Office of Children’s Affairs in partnership with the Denver Public Schools and local nonprofits, DAAConnect is a multi-functional tool that facilitates data exchanges among partner agencies, aligns youth service delivery with shared quality standards, and makes program information available to youth and parents through a searchable online directory.

The platform, powered by Cityspan Collaborative, provides the following:

- Registration, Attendance and Outcomes Data Management
  Agencies are granted free use of a management information system that incorporates the City’s shared standard for youth registration, program attendance tracking, and outcome evaluation. Key features include a Parent Portal that allows agencies to collect information from parents online and a survey tool that enables robust reporting of youth development outcomes.

- Denver Public Schools Data Exchange
  Through an innovative data use agreement, DAAConnect gives agencies direct access to Denver Public Schools student information. The system matches program enrollment rosters to DPS student records to generate participant cohort profiles and student detail reports that allow providers to more effectively tailor programming to individual needs.

- Searchable Provider Directory
  DAAConnect makes program information for over 400 provider agencies available to users through a searchable online directory. The data is exported to the City’s program locator where youth and parents can search for services citywide.

- Grants Management
  The Denver Office of Children Affairs uses DAAConnect to monitor city funding to over 40 agencies. Grant reports allow providers to describe program objectives, designs, and curriculum; and document youth attendance patterns across service locations.
Integrated functions for collaborative action

One team, one platform for effective collaboration. Cityspan Collaborative brings the functions you need to help you and your partners function together:

1. Speak One Language
   Create common definitions, benchmarks, and goals across providers and communities to coordinate and focus efforts and investments.

2. Reveal the Big Picture
   Create aggregate reports to provide a community-wide view of collective impact reflecting the work of multiple agencies, programs, grants and funders.

3. Manage Secure Access and Authorizations
   Assign multiple user roles to define access to reports and data, encouraging accessibility without compromising confidentiality or security.

4. See and Share Your Progress
   Develop publicly available visualizations of data (dashboards) that become a common ground for sharing information and evaluating progress.

5. Connect 3rd Parties
   Integrate with third-party systems — simply and without expensive IT investments — through APIs and other forms of data exchange.

6. Build a Common Repository
   Store service delivery data from external sources (e.g., census, school district, etc.) in one common location for convenient access and easy incorporation into program outcomes reports.
