Procedural History

A Notice of Proposed Rule Making was published in the State Register on May 24, 2017. Supporting materials for the proposed amendment are available upon request from the Secretary to the Board of Regents.

Background Information

On July 7, 2015, Governor Cuomo signed into law Chapter 76 of the Laws of 2015, Implementation by Colleges and Universities of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking Prevention and Response Policies and Procedures, known as the “Enough is Enough” statute. This statute requires higher education institutions in New York State to adopt a set of comprehensive procedures and guidelines, including a uniform definition of affirmative consent, a statewide amnesty policy, and expanded access to law enforcement. The statute also requires that institutions annually report aggregate data to the State Education Department concerning reports of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual assault. The Department was required to create a reporting mechanism for these annual data submissions and to issue regulations, developed in consultation with the higher education sectors, concerning the annual data reports.

Education Law §6449, as added by Chapter 76 of the Law of 2015, delineates the following specific data elements that are required to be reported to the Department:

- a. The number of such incidents that were reported to the Title IX Coordinator.
- b. Of those incidents in paragraph a, the number of reporting individuals who sought the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- c. Of those reporting individuals in paragraph b, the number of cases processed through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- d. Of those cases in paragraph c, the number of respondents who were found responsible through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- e. Of those cases in paragraph c, the number of respondents who were found not responsible through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- f. A description of the final sanctions imposed by the institution for each incident for which a respondent was found responsible, as provided in paragraph d, through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- g. The number of cases in the institution's judicial or conduct process that were closed prior to a final determination after the respondent withdrew from the institution and declined to complete the disciplinary process.
- h. The number of cases in the institution's judicial or conduct process that were closed because the complaint was withdrawn by the reporting individual prior to a final determination.

In December 2016, the Department circulated a discussion draft of the regulations and convened a meeting of representatives of the four higher education sectors and the New York State Office of Campus Safety to discuss the regulations. During that meeting, and in subsequent email communications with the sector representatives, several suggestions were made for definitions and clarifications that would provide consistency and accuracy in reporting. Many of those suggestions were incorporated into the proposed regulations attached to this item. An additional suggestion from the sector representatives was that the timeline for submission of the annual data reports required by the “Enough is Enough” statute should align with the existing timeline for institutions to submit data required by the federal “Clery Act” under Title IX of federal statute, which are required by October 1st of each year. Consistent with that suggestion, institutions would be required to collect the required “Enough is Enough” data from January 1 – December 31 of each calendar year, beginning with 2018, and submit the required data reports to the Department no later than October 1st of the next year. The first institutional data reports would be required to be submitted to the Department by October 1, 2019. The Department plans to issue a preliminary report in July 2018 to the Governor and Legislature.

The Office of Higher Education is working with staff in the Office of Information Technology Services (ITS) to develop an electronic data reporting system for the annual “Enough is Enough” data reports.
