Background Information

School district business leaders (SDBLs) are important assets to school districts and BOCES, with their duties ranging from day-to-day operations to long-range planning. The New York State Association of School Business Officials (NYSASBO) reached out to the Department in 2017 regarding the need for SDBLs in the near future due to impending retirements. At its January 2018 meeting, the Board of Regents established the Transitional H pathway for individuals who hold a valid license and registration as a New York State Certified Public Accountant, allowing them to be employed for up to three years as an SDBL while they complete the requirements for a Professional SDBL certificate and helping to meet the demand to fill SDBL positions.

The eligibility requirements for the Transitional H certificate include at least three years of experience as a licensed certified public accountant auditing New York State school districts, BOCES, and/or municipalities in New York State, as determined by the Commissioner. The candidate must also have a baccalaureate degree or higher in accounting, finance, or a related business field; receive an employment and support commitment from a school district or BOCES for at least three years, which includes at least one year of mentoring; and matriculate in a registered SDBL program that leads to certification.

NYSASBO has noted that individuals who have experience as a licensed certified public accountant working in the business office of one or more New York State school districts, BOCES, and/or municipalities in New York State would also be excellent candidates for the Transitional H certificate. Experience working in a business office in these settings means engaging in or overseeing work in business areas such as:

- Fiscal management: accounting, budget development and monitoring, financial planning, reporting, payroll, purchasing/inventory management.
- Physical Plant and Facilities Management: develop multi-year facilities plans; plan and manage construction projects; prepare and implement safety and management plans; oversee real estate acquisition, use, and disposal.
- Human Resources: administer employee records and benefits; provide workforce management, including recruiting, screening, hiring, evaluation, and terminating personnel; provide resources and manage staff development and training; support the collective bargaining process; implement legal requirements of policies such as FMLA, ADA, COBRA, and EEOC.
- Transportation: develop a district transportation plan and oversee vehicle fleet.
- School Nutrition: manage school breakfast/lunch programs.
- Technology: manage the purchasing and maintenance of district technology.

The following are examples of possible titles of positions that individuals working in the business office may have: Business Administrator, Business Manager/ Executive, Assistant to the Assistant Superintendent for Business/Finance/Operations, Deputy/ Associate/Assistant Superintendent, Director/Coordinator of Business Affairs/Finance/

Operations, District Treasurer, Payroll Manager/Supervisor, Purchasing Agent/Coordinator, Chief Operating Officer, Fiscal Services Administrator, or Controller.

Proposed Amendment

The Department is proposing to permit candidates who have at least three years of experience as a licensed certified public accountant working in a business office in one or more New York State school districts, BOCES, and/or municipalities in New York State, as determined by the Commissioner to also be eligible for the Transitional H certificate. The proposal expands the types of eligible experiences for the certificate while maintaining high standards for the certification requirements.
