Reason(s) for Consideration

Required by State statute.

Proposed Handling

This issue will be before the Board of Regents P-12 Education Committee and the Full Board for action at the March 13, 2017 Regents meeting.

Procedural History

The New York State Education Department (“the Department”) made the renewal recommendations being presented to the Board of Regents for approval and issuance as required by Article 56 of the Education Law and 8 NYCRR 119.7.

Background Information

Performance Framework

The Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework (the “Framework”), which is part of the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy and the Oversight Plan included in the Charter Agreement for each school, outlines three key areas of charter school performance: (1) Educational/Academic Success; (2) Organizational Soundness; and (3) Faithfulness to Charter and Law. The Framework sets forth ten performance benchmarks in these three areas. The Framework is designed to focus on performance outcomes, to preserve operational autonomy and to facilitate transparent feedback to schools. It aligns with the ongoing accountability and effectiveness work with traditional public schools and balances clear performance measures with Regents’ discretion.

New York State Education Department
Charter School Performance Framework

Performance Benchmark
Educational Success	Benchmark 1: Student Performance: The school has met or exceeded achievement indicators for academic trends toward proficiency, proficiency and high school graduation. At all grade levels and all assessments, scoring proficiently means achieving a performance level of 3 or higher (high school Regents and Common Core Regents exam score of 65 or higher).
	Benchmark 2: Teaching and Learning: School leaders have systems in place designed to cultivate shared accountability and high expectations and that lead to students' well-being, improved academic outcomes, and educational success. The school has rigorous and coherent curriculum and assessments that are aligned to the NYS Learning Standards (NYSLS) for all students. Teachers engage in strategic practices and decision-making in order to address the gap between what students know and need to learn so that all students experience consistent high levels of engagement, thinking and achievement.
	Benchmark 3: Culture, Climate, and Family Engagement: The school has systems in place to support students' social and emotional health and to provide for a safe and respectful learning environment. Families, community members and school staff work together to share in the responsibility for student academic progress and social-emotional growth and well-being. Families and students are satisfied with the school's academics and the overall leadership and management of the school.
Organizational Soundness	Benchmark 4: Financial Condition: The school is in sound and stable financial condition as evidenced by performance on key financial indicators.
	Benchmark 5: Financial Management: The school operates in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices.
	Benchmark 6: Board Oversight and Governance: The board of trustees provides competent stewardship and oversight of the school while maintaining policies, establishing performance goals, and implementing systems to ensure academic success, organizational viability, board effectiveness and faithfulness to the terms of its charter.
	Benchmark 7: Organizational Capacity: The school has established a well-functioning organizational structure, clearly delineated roles for staff, management, and board members. The school has systems and protocols that allow for the successful implementation, evaluation, and improvement of its academic program and operations.
Faithfulness to Charter & Law	Benchmark 8: Mission and Key Design Elements: The school is faithful to its mission and has implemented the key design elements included in its charter.
	Benchmark 9: Enrollment, Recruitment, and Retention: The school is meeting or making annual progress toward meeting the enrollment plan outlined in its charter and its enrollment and retention targets for students with disabilities, English language learners, and students who are eligible applicants for the free and reduced priced lunch program; or has demonstrated that it has made extensive good faith efforts to attract, recruit, and retain such students.
	Benchmark 10: Legal Compliance: The school complies with applicable laws, regulations, and the provisions of its charter.

Charter School Renewal Applications

In Article 56 of the Education Law, Section 2852(2) requires the chartering entity (in this case the Board of Regents) to make the following findings when considering a charter renewal application:

- (a) The charter school described in the application meets the requirements set out in this article and all other applicable laws, rules and regulations;
- (b) The applicant can demonstrate the ability to operate the school in an educationally and fiscally sound manner;
- (c) Granting the application is likely to improve student learning and achievement and materially further the purposes set out in subdivision two of section twenty-eight hundred fifty one of this article; and
- (d) In a school district where the total enrollment of resident students attending charter schools in the base year is greater than five percent of the total public school enrollment of the school district in the base year (i) granting the application would have a significant educational benefit to the students expected to attend the proposed charter school or (ii) the school district in which the charter school will be located consents to such application.

In addition, Renewal Guidelines contained in the Regulations of the Commissioner (8 NYCRR 119.7(d)) were adopted by the Board of Regents, and require that the Board further consider the following when evaluating a charter renewal application:

- (a) The information in the charter school's renewal application;
- (b) Any additional material or information submitted by the charter school;
- (c) Any public comments received;
- (d) Any information relating to the site visit and the site visit report;
- (e) The charter school's annual reporting results including, but not limited to, student academic achievement;
- (f) The Department's renewal recommendation and the charter school's written response, if any; and
- (g) Any other information that the board, in its discretion, may deem relevant to its determination whether the charter should be renewed.

Beyond the requirements to make the findings set forth in the Education Law and consider the factors set forth above, the Charter Schools Act leaves the decision of whether to renew a charter to the sound discretion of the Board of Regents.

Recommendations

The State Education Department Renewal Recommendations

The attached Renewal Recommendation Reports provide summary information about each of the Renewal Applications that are before the Regents for action today as well as an analysis of the academic and fiscal performance of each school over the charter term.

The Department considers evidence related to the ten Performance Benchmark areas when making recommendations to the Regents concerning charter renewal applications. However, student academic performance is of paramount importance when evaluating each school. Each of the recommendations below were made after a full due-diligence process over the charter term, including review of the information presented by each school in its Renewal Application, a specific fiscal review, a two-day renewal site visit conducted by a Department team during the fall of 2016, comprehensive analysis of achievement data and consideration of public comment. In the case of the charter schools being recommended for short-term renewal, the renewal findings warrant a renewal term of three years. Over the course of the charter term, the Department will closely monitor these charter schools based on the Monitoring Plan.

Timetable for Implementation

The Regents action for the above named charter schools will become effective immediately.

Democracy Prep Endurance Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a first renewal term for a period of five years for Democracy Prep Endurance Charter School. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022. NYSED is recommending approval of the school's requested revision to expand to serve Grades K-4 and 6-12 with a maximum of 1296 students in the first renewal charter term. The school proposes to add Grades K and 11 in the first year of the proposed charter term, Grades 1 and 12 in the second year, and one additional elementary grade each year thereafter.

Democracy Prep Endurance Charter School (DPE) is meeting the academic performance benchmarks and most benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Performance Framework. DPE is meeting enrollment and retention targets as prescribed by the Board of Regents for students who are economically disadvantaged and students with disabilities and is making good faith efforts to meet the enrollment target for English language learners. The school is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program and organizational plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The NYSED Board of Regents approved and issued a five-year initial charter for DPE on December 14, 2010. After a planning year, the school opened for instruction in August 2012, and its initial charter expires at the end of June 2017. DPE is part of Democracy Prep Public Schools (DPPS), a non-profit charter management organization. The Pathways program, a one year intensive intervention program for students with disabilities, is in its second year of operation. The program is conducted collaboratively with DPPS and serves students from DPE as well as students from Harlem Prep Charter School and Democracy Prep Harlem Charter School.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Over the five-year charter term, DPE administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 6-8 and Regents exams to high school and applicable middle school students. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

DPE's aggregate student performance in ELA has been increasing, while mathematics has moderately decreased since 2014 (see Table 1).

DPE's comparative outcomes to NYC CSD 5 and the NYS average show that the school is currently outperforming both. In aggregate comparison to both the district and NYS testing outcomes, DPE's performance in mathematics and ELA are above the respective averages (see Table 2).

According to the February 2016 accountability designations, DPE is a school in Good Standing.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

DPE appears to be in good financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the school's independently audited financial statements.

The CSO reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt to asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations².

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. DPE's composite score for 2014-2015 is 2.90. The table below shows the school's most recently available composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

Financial Management

DPE appears to be operating in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices. According to the 2015-2016 independent audit report, DPE had no material weaknesses to their internal controls. However, three main issues were cited surrounding check processing, credit card transactions, and analysis and reconciliation of accounts and the general ledger. The last two were cited in 2014-2015 and had not been remediated in 2015-2016.

⁴ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three years of the enrollment record.

ELL population at DPE has been a constant 6-7% of the overall student population for the past three school years.

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain students from all three special populations⁵. Efforts to recruit ELLs, economically disadvantaged students, and students with disabilities include reaching out to SPED, ELL, and guidance counselor counterparts in CSD 5 schools, direct mailings to upper Manhattan, translation of application materials into other languages, and having Spanish speakers accompanying canvassers to housing developments. Additionally, the school has made improvements to their ELL supports by utilizing a bilingual teacher to teach a separate class to ELL students.

Student Retention

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at DPE is 81%. The district-wide retention rate in NYC CSD 5 is 62%.

Legal Compliance

DPE operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with Federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS DASA regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was conducted on September 29, 2016. Sixty-five individuals attended the hearing and 45 people signed up to speak. All comments recorded were positive and in favor of the renewal and expansion of the school. Speakers noted exceptional staff, activities offered beyond academics, and non-violence policies that support anti-bullying. There were no comments in opposition.

⁵ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities ("SWD"), FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners("ELL") when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. See, Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

Evergreen Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a third renewal term for a period of five years for the Evergreen Charter School. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022. NYSED is recommending approval of the school's request to expand to serve Grades K through 8 (from K-5) with a maximum authorized enrollment of 600 students (from 375).

Evergreen Charter School (ECS) is meeting the academic performance benchmarks and all remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Performance Framework. ECS is meeting enrollment and retention targets as prescribed by the Board of Regents for students for all special population subgroups. The school is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program and organizational plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The Board of Regents granted an initial charter to ECS, located within the Hempstead Union Free School District, on January 13, 2009. The school was chartered to serve students in Grades K-5 and opened in September 2009. In 2014, the Board of Regents approved a three-year, short-term renewal due to academic outcomes. In March 2016, upon review of improved academic performance, the Board of Regents approved an expansion for ECS to serve Grades K-6 and add an additional 75 students to its enrollment.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Over the three-year charter term, ECS administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 3-5. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

ECS's aggregate and subgroup student performance in ELA and mathematics has been trending positively since 2014 (see Table 1). Comparative outcomes to both Hempstead Union Free School District and New York State show that the school is outperforming both, at times by large margins (Table 2). All population subgroups are likewise outperforming their peers at the district and state level in both ELA and mathematics.

According to the February 2016 accountability designations, ECS is a school in Good Standing.

For the 2015-2016 academic year, ECS has generally met its enrollment targets. The school enrolls a higher percentage of students identified as ED compared to the district of location. ECS's enrollment of English language learners and students with disabilities was slightly below the district for the 2014-2015 and 2015-2016 school years but is increasing, although the district's ELL population is increasing at a steeper rate. The school is making good faith efforts to recruit English language learners and students with disabilities through intensive targeted marketing and recruitment efforts.¹⁰

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance – Elementary and Middle School Outcomes

Over the five-year charter term, KIPPNYCWAH administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 3-8. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

For all students and all subgroups, in both ELA and mathematics, KIPPNYCWAH is exceeding district and state average proficiency rates (see Table 1).

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

KIPP NYC Washington Heights enrolls a slightly higher proportion of economically disadvantaged (ED) students when compared to the district of location, but a smaller percentage of English language learners (ELLs) and a slightly smaller percentage of students with disabilities (SWDs) (Table 3).

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students¹². The school reports benefiting from the KIPP NYC recruitment efforts, which are described in the Renewal Application as including mailers to targeted buildings and neighborhoods, subway and bus advertisements, visits to organizations with similar missions in the area to distribute pamphlets and other educational materials, and targeted e-mail and digital advertising. In the renewal charter term, KIPPNYCWHA has requested a change in its enrollment policy to allow a greater lottery weighting for students who are English Language Learners.

Table 3: Student Demographics –KIPP NYC Washington Heights Academy Charter School (Compared to NYC CSD 6)

¹² Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

Legal Compliance

The school operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS DASA regulations. The board has been holding its meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held on October 24, 2016. Fifteen people were present and two people commented in favor of the charter renewal. Six written comments also in favor of the proposal were submitted. No comments in opposition were provided.

¹³ Enrollment for the 2015-16 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for the school year have been reported by the school.

¹⁴ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three year of enrollment record.

Neighborhood Charter School of Harlem

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a first renewal term for a period of five years for the Neighborhood Charter School of Harlem. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022. NYSED is recommending approval of the school's requested revision to expand to serve students in Grades K-8 (from grades K-5) with a maximum authorized enrollment 630 students (from 375).

Neighborhood Charter School of Harlem (NCSH) is meeting the academic performance benchmarks and all other benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Performance Framework. NCSH is meeting enrollment and retention targets as prescribed by the Board of Regents for students who are economically disadvantaged and is exceeding enrollment targets for students with disabilities. The school is making good faith efforts to meet the enrollment target for English language learners. NCSH is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program and organizational plan set forth in the charter.

Background

¹⁵ Self-reported by NCSH in Renewal Site Visit Workbook

The Board of Regents granted an initial charter to NCSH in September 2011. As can be seen in their mission statement above, this school successfully focuses on serving students on the autism spectrum in an integrated general education setting. The school opened in Manhattan, NY CSD 5 in August 2012, and is currently operating in two incubation sites. In January 2014, the school submitted a non-material request for approval to move into a permanent private facility in NYC CSD 6 when construction is completed in 2018. This facility will accommodate the school's full enrollment.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Over the five-year charter term, NCSH administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 3-4 in 2015 and 2016. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

NCSHS' aggregate student performance in mathematics and ELA has met Board of Regents expectations for academic outcomes since the school's first testing year in 2015. (see Table 1). Students who are economically disadvantaged and students with disabilities at NCSH have posted higher percentages of proficiency than students in these same subgroups at both the district and state levels.

NCSHS' aggregate outcomes, when compared to NYC CSD 5 and to the NYS average, show that the school is performing at significantly higher proficiency levels in both testing areas (see Table 2).

According to the February 2016 accountability designations, NCSH is a school in Good Standing.

Note: Data in Table 2 represents tested students only in Grades 3-4 at NCSH, NYC CSD 5, and NYS who scored proficiently (level 3 or above) on each state assessment. This table was created using grade level data to generate the comparative values, the percent difference between the school's performance and the district or state averages. All values were calculated to the nearest whole number; therefore, the percent differences may show a rounded value.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

NCSH appears to be in good financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the school's independently audited financial statements.

The CSO reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt-to asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations¹⁶.

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. NCSH's composite score for 2014-2015 is 3.00. The table below shows the school's most recently available composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

¹⁶ These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

Financial Management

NCSH operates in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices. According to the 2015-2016 independent audit report, NCSH had no material weaknesses in their internal controls.

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

Table 3: Student Demographics –Neighborhood Charter School of Harlem Compared to District of Location (NYC CSD 5)

	2014-2015			2015-2016			2016-2017¹⁷

English Language Learners	5%	10%	-5	4%	10%	-6	8%
Students with Disabilities	31%	22%	+9	33%	23%	+10	30%

For the 2014-2015 and 2015-16 school years, NCSH has exceeded the enrollment target for students with disabilities. In the 2014-2015 school year, the school was below the comparative target for enrollment of economically disadvantaged students. NCSH school leadership attributes the difference to a data recording and reporting issue that is common for charter schools that do not participate in the school lunch program in New York City. In the 2015-2016 school year, NCSH made a concerted effort to reach out to parents to gather additional voluntary documentation from families. Those efforts verified an economically disadvantaged student population that is comparable to that of the district of location.

¹⁷ Enrollment for the 2016-17 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for this school year have been reported by the school.

¹⁸ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three years of the enrollment record.

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain all at-risk students¹⁹. Efforts to recruit and retain economically disadvantaged students, English language learners and students with disabilities are differentiated and include targeted outreach to community organizations that serve students in those population groups, and a more active presence in the community to assure families of the availability of services at the school that meet all students' learning needs.

Student Retention

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at NCSH is 85.05%. The district-wide retention rate in NYC CSD 5 is 67.65%.

Legal Compliance

NCSH operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with Federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held on October 17, 2016. Four individuals attended the hearing, with three asking general questions about the program. No comments in opposition were received.

¹⁹ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities ("SWD"), FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners("ELL") when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. See, Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science II

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7, and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a full renewal term for a period of five years for New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science II. The proposed charter term will begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022.

New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science II (AMS II) is meeting the academic performance benchmark expectations and remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework. AMS II is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, enrollment, and organizational design as set forth in the charter. The school is in sound financial condition.

Background

The NYSED Board of Regents approved and issued a five-year initial charter for AMS II on September 13, 2011. The school commenced instruction in August of 2012. The initial charter expires at the end of June 2017. AMS II was authorized simultaneously with New Visions Charter High School for the Humanities II (HUM II) as a set of paired small charter high schools with a program designed to address the need for high-quality high school seats generated by the NYC DOE's phase out of persistently low-achieving district schools.

²⁰ Self-reported by New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science II in Renewal Site Visit Workbook

The schools are managed by New Visions for Public Schools, Inc. In addition to a strong partnership with NYC DOE high schools, the CMO also operates New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science and New Visions Charter High School for Humanities (both SUNY-authorized and located in the Bronx), and New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science III and IV and New Visions Charter High School for Humanities III and IV (Board of Regents-authorized and located in Brooklyn and Queens).

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Graduation rates at AMS II exceed Board of Regents expectations for charter schools. The 2012 cohort graduation rate is 95%, which is 15 percentage points above the state target and 16 percentage points above the state average.

The school's four-year Regents cohort outcomes met or exceeded state averages for all subject areas except US History, which is slightly below the state average.

The Charter School Office reviewed AMS II's 2015-16 audited financial statements to determine whether the independent auditor observed sufficient internal controls over financial reporting. The auditor did not identify any deficiencies in internal controls that could be considered material weaknesses.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

Over the duration of the charter term, AMS II has generally met its enrollment targets for two special population subgroups – economically disadvantaged (ED) students and English language learners (ELLs), although the most current preliminary data submitted by the school shows a marked decrease in the ED population as of the 2016-2017 school. The school has been working to enroll an increased number of students with disabilities (SWDs) and ELLs over the duration of the charter term (Table 2).

²¹ These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students²². Efforts to recruit and retain students in the ED, ELL, and SWD populations include participating in the citywide and borough-wide high school fairs hosted by the New York City Department of Education; organizing middle school visits to AMS II and principal presentations and visits to local middle schools; sending out direct mailings to over 17,000 eighth graders residing in the Bronx; hosting open houses for interested families and students; participating in local community events; and partnering with community-based organizations and social services networks.

To retain students in the special population subgroups, AMS II employs an associate director of special education who supports five special education certified teachers, two TESOL staff to support ELLs, and offers a Native Language Arts class to support and encourage students in their native language and culture. The network has also added a director of special education and created a team that includes a compliance specialist as well as an intervention specialist to support the school's at-risk populations.

²² Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

²³ Enrollment for the 2015-16 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for the school year have been reported by the school.

²⁴ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three year of enrollment record.

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at AMS II is 82.71%. The district-wide retention rate in NYC CSD 8 is 71.21%.

Legal Compliance

AMS II operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held by the NYC DOE on November 7, 2016. One hundred and twenty people were present. Twenty people spoke and eight handwritten/emailed comments were submitted, all of which were in favor of the renewal. No comments in opposition were received.

Northside Charter High School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7, and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a third renewal term for a period of five years for Northside Charter High School. The proposed charter term will commence on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022.

Northside Charter High School (NCHS) is meeting the academic performance benchmark expectations and remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework, as well as enrollment targets for priority populations. NCHS is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, organizational design, and fiscal plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The Board of Regents issued the initial charter for Believe Northside Charter High School in January 2009. In February 2010, the Board of Regents approved a nunc pro tunc revision to the charter permitting the school to contract with a charter management organization, Believe High School Network, Inc., effective August 2009. In September 2011, the school was placed on probation due to concerns regarding governance, organizational viability, and fiscal soundness. NHCS did not substantially resolve the violations identified in the probation order and, in January 2012, the school was issued a Notice of Intent to Seek Revocation and Order. In April 2012, the school terminated its relationship with the Believe High School Network for cause. The NYSED Charter School Office issued Supplemental Terms and Conditions of the charter for the duration of the probation period. In June 2012, the probation order expired, with the school materially satisfying the terms set forth by the NYSED Charter School Office. In April 2013, the Board of Regents approved a material revision allowing the school to change its name from Believe Northside Charter High School to Northside Charter High School. In December 2013, the Board of Regents approved a three-year renewal term that began on July 1, 2014 and expired on June 30, 2017.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance – High School Academic Outcomes

Over the charter term, graduation rates at NCHS have approached or exceeded state targets. The 2012 cohort graduation rate is 80%.

The school's four-year Regents cohort outcomes have approached or exceeded state averages (Table 1 below). NCHS students in the 2012 cohort, which graduated in June 2016, passed Regents exams at rates between 78% and 91%. The 2011 and 2010 cohorts averaged passing rates on their Regents exams at or above 82% and 88%, respectively.

According to the February 2016 ESEA accountability designations, NCHS is In Good Standing.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

NCHS appears to be in good financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the school's independently audited financial statements.

The NYSED CSO reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt-to-asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations²⁶.

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A Charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. NCHS's composite score for 2015-2016 is 3.00. The table below shows the school's composite scores from 2012-2013 to 2015-2016.

Financial Management

NCHS operates in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices.

The Charter School Office reviewed NCHS' 2015-2016 audited financial statements to determine whether the independent auditor observed sufficient internal controls over financial reporting. The independent audit did not identify any deficiencies in internal controls that could be considered material weaknesses.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

NCHS enrolls a higher proportion of economically disadvantaged (ED) students and a comparable proportion of English Language Learners (ELL).

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students²⁷. Efforts to recruit and retain students in the ED, ELL, and SWD populations include targeting recruitment toward local ²⁶ These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

²⁷ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

students, offering a stand-alone resource room for all grade levels, and employing staff for SWD and ELL who coordinate with subject course teachers to provide support and differentiation. NCHS also employs a social worker who creates workshops and clubs for the SWD population and ELL population who require informal supports in addition to providing mandated services.

The retention rate of NCHS is 83.64% compared to 75.53% for CSD 14.

Legal Compliance

NCHS operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held on November 7, 2016 at the NCHS facility. Nineteen individuals were present and two spoke in support of the renewal. There were no comments in opposition of the renewal.

²⁸ Variance is defined as the percent of subgroup enrollment between the charter school and the district of location.

Riverhead Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a fifth renewal term for a period of five years for the Riverhead Charter School. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022. NYSED recommends approval of the school's request to change its key design elements and to expand its maximum authorized enrollment from 414 students in Grades K-8 to 700 students in Grades K-8.

Riverhead Charter School (RCS) is meeting the academic performance benchmarks and all remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Performance Framework. RCS is exceeding enrollment and retention targets as prescribed by the Board of Regents for students who are economically disadvantaged, meeting targets for students who are English language learners, and making good faith efforts to meet the enrollment target for students with disabilities. The school is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, and organizational plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The Board of Regents granted an initial charter to Riverhead Charter School in January 2001 to serve students in Grades K-5. In July 2003, the Board of Regents approved a revision allowing RCS to add Grade 6 and in March 2013, the Board of Regents approved a revision to add Grades 7-8 and increase the maximum enrollment to 400 students. The maximum authorized enrollment was increased to 414 students when the school was approved for the Fourth Renewal Term in 2014.

In 2015, RCS completed construction on a new facility and took occupancy. The new facility replaced the former temporary school buildings which were also located on the school-owned property in Calverton. The new facility has adequate space to accommodate the proposed expansion to 700 students.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Over the charter term, RCS administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 3-8. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

RCS's aggregate academic outcomes exceed the Riverhead Central School District (RCSD) and are approaching the state averages for both ELA and math. Aggregate English and math scores still measured below the state average in 2016, but the variance has decreased rapidly between 2014 and 2016 in ELA. The gap between RCS math proficiency scores and district and state averages has been static for two years. The performance of students with disabilities and English language learners at RCS is exceeding district and state averages in both ELA and in math. The performance of students who are economically disadvantaged exceeds the district and hovers at the state averages in both subjects.

The school was designated in Good Standing for the 2014-2015, 2015-2016, and 2016-2017 school years.

All values were calculated to the nearest whole number, therefore, the percent differences may show a rounded value.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

RCS appears to be in good financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the school's independently audited financial statements.

The CSO reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (debts to assets) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt-to asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations³².

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. RCS's composite score for 2014-2015 is 2.30. The table below shows the school's most recently available composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

³² These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

Financial Management

RCS operates in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices. According to the 2015-2016 independent audit report, RCS had no material weaknesses to their internal controls.

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

Table 3: Student Demographics – Riverhead Charter School Compared to District of Location (Riverhead Central School District)

English Language Learners	20%	18%	+2	22%	21%	+1	36%
Students with Disabilities	12%	14%	-2	7%	14%	-7	11%

The school enrolls a significantly higher percentage of students identified as economically disadvantaged compared to the district of location. RCS's enrollment of English language learners and students with disabilities was on par with RCSD for the 2014-2015 school year, and also was comparable to the district for the enrollment of English language learners in the 2015-2016 school year. While RCS's enrollment of economically disadvantaged students has been consistent over the charter school term, the school reports a significant increase in enrolled English language learners in the 2016-2017 school year. RCS enrolled a smaller percentage of students with disabilities in the 2015-2016 school year than the 2014-2015 school year. However, the school reports that the percentage of students with disabilities has increased again in the 2016-2017 school year.

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students³⁵. Efforts to recruit and retain economically disadvantaged students, English language learners and students with disabilities include targeted outreach to community organizations that serve students in those population groups, social media and traditional marketing techniques, open houses, tours and special events, as well as the provision and advertisement of academic support programs designed to serve these populations.

Student Retention

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at RCS is 67.73%. The district-wide retention rate in RCSD is 80.95%.

Legal Compliance

RCS operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with Federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS DASA regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required hearing was held on September 6, 2016. In addition to district personnel, the RCS school leader and several parents of children attending RCS attended the hearing. Four parents made public comments in support of RCS as a positive option for their families. No comments in opposition of the school's renewal or proposed expansion were received.

All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

Rochester Academy Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a fourth renewal term for a period of five years for the Rochester Academy Charter School. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022. NYSED is recommending approval of the school's request to expand to serve Grades K-4 and 6-12 with a maximum approved enrollment of 750 by the end of the renewal charter term.

Rochester Academy Charter School (RACS) is making progress toward meeting the academic performance benchmark expectations and all remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework. RACS is meeting enrollment and retention targets as prescribed by the Board of Regents for students who are economically disadvantaged and making good faith efforts to meet enrollment targets for students with disabilities and English language learners.

RACS is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, organizational design, and fiscal plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The Board of Regents granted an initial charter to RACS on January 15, 2008. The school opened in the Rochester City School District on September 7, 2008 with 180 students in Grades 7-9. The school added Grades 10-12 in the subsequent academic years. After two short term renewals, RACS has improved academic performance and attained the expectations set forth in the Board of Regents Performance Framework.

Summary of Evidence

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

According to the Department's accountability designations for 2015-2016 and 2016-2017, RACS is a school In Good Standing.

Student Performance - Middle School Academic Outcomes

Over the three-year charter term, RACS administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 7-8. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

In 2015 and 2016, middle school students at RACS surpassed the achievement of students in the Rochester City School District (RCSD) on ELA and math state assessments, but still remains well below state averages by 20-23% in math and 24-28% in ELA (Table 2). RACS students have demonstrated some gains in ELA and math performance, moving from 8% proficiency in ELA in 2014-2015 to 10% in 2015-2016 and 6% proficiency in math in 2014-2015 to 9% in 2015-2016 (Table 1). The economically disadvantaged (ED) subgroup has mirrored the performance of students overall, exceeding the district of location but falling below the state averages for similar students. Students with disabilities (SWD) have also exceeded the district and, in 2015-2016, rose to meet state average proficiency levels for SWDs in math and ELA. The performance of English language learners (ELL) at RACS was near the district average but below the state average for that subgroup in 2014-2015 (too few ELLs were tested in 2016 to draw a reliable comparison).

Student Performance - High School Academic Outcomes

Graduation rates at RACS have exceeded state requirements. The graduation rate was 92% for the 2010 cohort and 93% for the 2011 cohort.

The school's four-year Regents cohort outcomes met or exceeded state averages. RACS students in the 2012 cohort, which graduated in June 2016, passed Regents exams at rates between 82% and 95%. The 2011 and 2010 cohorts averaged passing rates on their Regents exams at or above 81% and 89%, respectively.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

RACS appears to be in adequate financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the schools independently audited financial statements.

The Charter School Office reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt-to asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations³⁷.

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. RACS's composite score for 2014-2015 is 3.00. The table below shows the school's most recently available composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

Financial Management

RACS operates in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices.

The Charter School Office reviewed RACS' 2015-2016 audited financial statements to determine whether the independent auditor observed sufficient internal controls over financial reporting. The independent audit did not identify any deficiencies in internal controls that could be considered material weaknesses.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

RACS enrolls a higher proportion of ED students than the district, but a smaller percentage of ELLs and SWDs (Table 4).

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students³⁸. Efforts to recruit and retain students in the ED, ELL, and SWD populations include targeted outreach to community organizations that serve students in those population groups, social media and traditional marketing strategies, and sharing information about academic supports designed to serve these populations. School leaders emphasized the importance of word-of-mouth outreach and have built connections with several local cultural centers and churches, which resulted in twenty-five new enrollees, including ELLs and SWDs.

Table 4: Student Demographics – Rochester Academy Charter School Compared to District of Location (Rochester City School District)

³⁸ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

Students with Disabilities	8%	19%	-11	10%	20%	-10	12%

Student Persistence and Attrition

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at RACS is 63.52%. The district-wide retention rate in the Rochester City School District is 65.03%.

Legal Compliance

RACS operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with Federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS DASA regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held on November 17, 2016 at the Rochester City School District's central office. No speakers were present and no comments were submitted.

³⁹ Enrollment for the 2016-17 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for this school year have been reported by the school.

⁴⁰ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three years of the enrollment record.

Syracuse Academy of Science Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Section 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a third renewal term for a period of five years for Syracuse Academy of Science Charter School. The proposed charter term will commence on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2022.

Syracuse Academy of Science Charter School (SASCS) is meeting the academic performance benchmark expectations and most remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework. The school is continuing and accelerating its good faith efforts to increase the enrollment and retention of students who are economically disadvantaged, students with disabilities and/or English language learners. SASCS is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, and organizational design as set forth in the charter, and is in sound financial condition.

Background

The Board of Regents granted an initial charter to SASCS in January 2003. SASCS opened in September 2003 with 200 students in Grades 7-9. SASCS added Grades 10, 11, and 12 in the subsequent three years, ending its first charter term with 350 students in grades 7-12. In December 2007, the Board of Regents granted a first renewal charter term of five years to SASCS. In May of 2010, the Board of Regents granted a revision to SASCS to add Grades K-2 and 5-6 during its first renewal term.

In the school's second Renewal Application, SASCS requested a full five-year renewal charter term, including a complete expansion to the full K-12 grade span, adding Grade 3 in 2012-2013 and Grade 4 in 2013-2014 to serve a total of 696 students in grades K-12.

In February 2014, the Board of Regents approved a revision to increase enrollment from 696 to 975, increase the length of the school year from 180 to 195 days total, and serve grades 5-7 at a new east campus located just outside the Syracuse City School District in the town of Geddes. The mission of the school is still to serve at-risk students from Syracuse.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance – Middle School Outcomes

Over the five-year charter term, SASCS administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 6-8 and Regents exams to high school and applicable middle school students. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

On the 3-8 math and ELA exam, SASCS's aggregate student performance in both subjects has been consistently above the district of location (see Table 1). When compared to the NYS average, the school is currently performing slightly below the state (Table 2).

Student Performance – High School

The school has demonstrated strong academic performance in the high school grades, out-performing the district of location by wide margins and in some grades and subjects outscoring the state average. The school is located at three sites, but maintains a cohesive academic program with a superintendent holding overall responsibility, and a director who oversees the three site-based deans. The school has a comprehensive college preparatory curriculum in place and an assessment system that provides useful data to teachers and school leaders. The school continues to enhance its intervention programming. The school has a culture conducive to learning and uses a system of merits/demerits and recognition activities to encourage positive behaviors.

The school's four-year Regents cohort outcomes have been above the state average and steadily increasing with the most recent 2012 cohort graduation rate being a full 13 percentage points above the state target graduation rate.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

The school has strong enrollment and backfills students all grades from its waitlist. Through efforts towards increasing the percentage of at-risk students enrolled, the school is coming close to but not yet meeting its targets for all of the special population subgroups – economically disadvantaged (ED), students with disabilities (SWDs), or English language learners (ELLs), (Table 4). The ED student population has been steadily increasing over the previous three years, with a marked increase in the self-reported number for 2016-2017. Both SWD and ELL populations are relatively stagnant, with some growth indicated for the ELL population from 2015-2016 to 2016-2017.

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students⁴³. Efforts to recruit and retain students in the ED, ELL, and SWD populations include its location, which serves an economically

In the upcoming charter term, SASCS will add the following strategies to enhance the numbers of applicants from the priority populations:

- Marketing materials will highlight recent program enhancements for SWDs (e.g. all SASCS K-4 classrooms are now taught or co-taught by a certified special education teacher);
- Targeted mailings to families in priority population groups;
- Collaboration with organizations that provide weekend or summer mentoring for students in need, and offering SASCS school space to those organizations for their meetings or activities;
- Investigation of Google Translator add-on to provide multi-lingual access to SASCS website and published materials.

When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

⁴⁵ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three year of enrollment record.

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at SASCS is 76.68%. The district-wide retention rate in Syracuse City School District is 69.86%.

Legal Compliance

NCHS operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including the terms of its charter, its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS DASA regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held by the Syracuse City School District on November 2, 2016. Twenty seven people attended, and nineteen spoke, eight in favor of the school and eleven opposed. There were also five emailed/hand-written comments, of which one was in favor of the renewal and four were opposed. Speakers in favor of the renewal included parents and school employees who expressed satisfaction with the academic program and school culture. Speakers in opposition included former SASCS employees, teachers and parents from Syracuse City School District and two former SASCS parents. Comments made in opposition included concerns about the financial impact on the Syracuse City School District, general opposition to charter schools, concerns with hiring practices at the charter school, and one parent spoke of poor college readiness (need for remedial classes).

Health Sciences Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a second renewal term for a period of three years for Health Sciences Charter School. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2020.

Health Sciences Charter School (HSCS) is making progress toward meeting the academic performance benchmark expectations and remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework, but needs to further strengthen academic outcomes and fiscal condition, as well as efforts to meet subgroup enrollment targets for students who are economically disadvantaged, students with disabilities and English language learners.

HSCS is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, organizational design, and fiscal plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The charter for HSCS was approved by the Board of Regents in September 2009. The school opened in August 2010 in the Kenmore Tonawanda Union Free School District and relocated to the Buffalo City School District in 2011 for several reasons, including proximity to locations of internships, ease of transportation and opportunities for greater parent involvement. HSCS was issued a short-term three-year renewal on July 1, 2014 to improve academic outcomes and financial condition.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

HSCS's academic outcomes over the charter term show 2010, 2011, and 2012 cohort proficiency levels for all students and most subgroups that either exceed or come close to the state average with the exception of Global History and US History.

Graduation rates for all students and for students who are economically disadvantaged have hovered around the state average graduation rates for comparable students throughout the charter term. Graduation rates for students with disabilities at HSCS exceed the state average. The number of students who are English language learners at the school is too small to assess performance.

A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. HSC's composite score for 2014-2015 is -0.30. The table below shows the school's composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

⁴⁷ These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

In addition, the debt to asset ratio measures the extent to which the school relies on borrowed funds to finance its operations. HSCS' debt to asset ratio is 1.0 for 2015-2016. A ratio of 0.9 or less meets a standard of low risk; therefore, there are some concerns. HSCS's total margin, which indicates the deficit or surplus the school yields out of its total revenues, is positive, indicating the school is living within its available resources.

Financial Management

According to the 2015-2016 independent audit report, HSCS had no material weaknesses in their internal controls. The school appears to operate in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

HSCS is making good faith efforts⁴⁸ to meet enrollment targets in both the English language learners (ELL) and students with disabilities (SWD) population subgroups. Efforts to recruit students in the target populations were identified in a marketing plan created by a board/school committee in 2016-2017. Among other strategies, the plan includes participation in high school recruitment days at elementary schools and using community networks to identify groups that can partner with the school. In January 2017, the board is implementing a plan to work with partner organizations to capitalize on their relationships with the diverse communities across the city.

⁴⁸ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

*This number is the result of a reporting error made by the school. HSCS has informed NYSED that the true enrollment of students who are economically disadvantaged in 2015-2016 is 88%.

Legal Compliance

HSCS operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with Federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

A public hearing was held by the Buffalo Board of Education on September 7, 2016. The school leader made a presentation to the board. Twenty-three members of the community attended and several spoke at the hearing. Seven comments were made in favor of the school's renewal and no comments were made in opposition.

⁴⁹ Enrollment for the 2015-16 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for this school year have been reported by the school.

New Visions Charter High School for the Humanities II

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7, and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a short term renewal for a period of three years for New Visions Charter High School for the Humanities II. The proposed charter term will commence on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2020.

New Visions Charter High School for the Humanities II (HUM II), which is currently in their initial charter term, is working toward meeting the academic performance benchmark expectations and remaining benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Charter School Performance Framework, but needs to further strengthen academic outcomes and enrollment. HUM II is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program, and organizational design as set forth in the charter. The school is in good financial condition.

Background

The NYSED Board of Regents approved and issued a five-year initial charter for HUM II on September 13, 2011. The school opened for instruction in August 2012, and its initial charter expires at the end of June 2017. HUM II was simultaneously authorized with New Visions Charter High Schools for Advanced Math and Science II (AMS II) as a set of paired small charter high schools with a program designed to address the needs for high quality high school seats generated through the closure of persistently low-achieving district schools.

The schools are managed by New Visions for Public Schools, Inc. In addition to a strong partnership with NYC DOE high schools, the CMO also operates New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science and New Visions Charter High School for Humanities (both SUNY-authorized and located in the Bronx), and New Visions Charter High School for Advanced Math and Science III and IV and New Visions Charter High School for Humanities III and IV (Board of Regents-authorized and located in Brooklyn and Queens).

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

The first graduating cohort at HUM II exceeded the Board of Regents charter school target graduation rate of 80%. The school posted an 87% graduation rate for the 2012 cohort, seven percentage points above the state target and eight percentage points above the state average graduation rate. However, a relatively high percentage of students were issued a local diploma (19%), compared to the state average of 4%. HUM II issued local diplomas to 41% of its graduating students with disabilities, compared to the state average of 21% local diplomas issued to graduating students with disabilities. HUM II uses the SkillsUSA Workforce Ready Employability Assessment as the external assessment for the award of the CDOS credential.

The school's four-year cohort Regents testing outcomes for the 2012 cohort are below state averages for all subject areas except math, which is on par with the state average.

According to the February 2016 ESEA accountability designations, HUM II is In Good Standing.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

HUM II appears to be in strong financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the school's independently audited financial statements.

The Charter School Office reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt-to-asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations⁵².

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered to be in strong financial health. HUM II's composite score for 2015-2016 is 2.90. The table below shows the school's composite scores from 2012-2013 to 2015-2016.

Financial Management

The Charter School Office reviewed HUM II's 2015-2016 audited financial statements to determine whether the independent auditor observed sufficient internal controls over financial reporting. The auditor did not identify any deficiencies in internal controls that could be considered material weaknesses.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

Since the second year of the current charter term, the school has been under-enrolled. The school reports that this is partially due to the commercial neighborhood of location, and is planning to intensify and broaden recruitment and outreach efforts for the upcoming year(s). In response to this, the school is requesting approval to use the flexibility in the charter agreement to serve 85% of the maximum approved enrollment for the first two years of the renewal term.

Over the duration of the charter term, HUM II has generally come close to meeting its enrollment targets for all three special population subgroups – economically disadvantaged (ED) students, English language learners (ELLs), and students with disabilities (SWDs) (Table 2).

⁵² These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

The school is making good faith efforts to recruit, serve, and retain at-risk students⁵³. Efforts to recruit and retain students in the ED, ELL, and SWD populations include: outreach within CSD 7 and the surrounding districts, utilizing New Visions network's connections with agencies and organizations that support families of students with special needs, using a database created by New Visions of over 200 organizations to conduct email and direct mail campaigns, creating and making available brochures customized to advertise the services available for ELLs and SWDs, and website and applications available in both English and Spanish.

To retain students in the special population subgroups, HUM II employs a Special Education Coordinator and two Lead Teachers for ELL students, and certified special education teachers to coordinate and provide special education services. The network has also added a director of special education and created a team that includes a compliance specialist as well as an intervention specialist that will support the school's at-risk population.

Student Retention

⁵³ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

⁵⁴ Enrollment for the 2015-2016 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for the school year have been reported by the school.

⁵⁵ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three year of enrollment record.

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at HUM II is 78.23%. The district-wide retention rate in NYC CSD 7 is 73.63%.

Legal Compliance

HUM II operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held by CSD 7 on November 14, 2016. One person was in attendance, the school principal. There were no speakers and no comments recorded in support or opposition.

Southside Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a fifth renewal term for a period of three years for the Southside Academy Charter School. The recommendation is based on the need for continued progress in improving academic outcomes and organizational stewardship over the past two-year renewal term. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2020.

Background

Since the initial charter was issued by the Board of Regents in 2002, Southside Academy Charter School (SACS) has been managed by National Heritage Academies, Inc. (NHA), a for-profit charter management organization based in Michigan. The school is housed in a private facility that was built and is owned by NHA.

SACS is currently completing a two-year renewal term which was issued by the Board of Regents in 2015 based on the school's record of insufficient academic performance and insufficient financial and organizational stewardship. The school developed and implemented an academic and fiscal corrective action plan in 2015-2016 and has provided monthly progress reports to the Department throughout the year. Over the charter term, SACS has brought in new leadership, increased staffing and salaries, and made improvements to the instructional program to better meet the learning needs of the student population. The board has taken steps to improve its oversight capacity and to clarify the terms of relationship with the management company, specifically around the facility lease terms. NHA is providing enhanced supports to the school, including personnel, training and curricular resources.

Summary of Evidence for Renewal

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Over the charter term, SACS administered the NYS English language arts and mathematics assessments to students in Grades 3-8. The outcomes from these assessments serve as the basis for determination of academic success in absolute proficiency outcomes and comparisons to the state and district of location.

SACS was designated as a Focus Charter School for the 2013-2014 and 2014-2015 school years. In February 2016, SACS was identified as a Priority School.

SACS outperformed Syracuse City School District (SCSD) in both ELA and mathematics in 2014-15 and 2015-16, showing increases in the variance in aggregate proficiency between SACS and SCSD over time. The school improved in 2015-16 to outperform the SCSD average in ELA by 7 percentage points and the SCSD average in mathematics by 11 percentage points. Subgroup outcomes for students with disabilities, English language learners (ELLs), and students who are economically disadvantaged (ED) show a similar trend of performing increasingly above the district average in 2014-15 and 2015-16 in both ELA and mathematics.

Note: Data in Table 2 represents tested students only in Grades 3-8 at Southside Academy Charter School, Syracuse City School District (district of location), and NYS who scored proficiently (level 3 or above) on each state assessment. This table was created using grade level data to generate the comparative values, the percent difference between the school's performance and the district or state averages. All values were calculated to the nearest whole number, therefore, the percent differences may show a rounded value.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

SACS appears to be in uncertain financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the school's independently audited financial statements.

The Charter School Office reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt to asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations⁵⁷.

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered to be in strong financial health. SACS' composite score for 2014-2015 is 0.60. The table below shows the school's most recently available composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

Southside Academy Charter School Composite Scores
2012-2013 to 2014-2015

Year	Composite Score
2014-2015	0.60
2013-2014	0.80
2012-2013	0.70

Source: NYSED Office of Audit Services

The school's unrestricted cash measures, in days, showed that the school operated with 3 days of unrestricted cash in 2015-2016. Charter schools typically strive to maintain at least 90 days of cash on hand to be sure they can meet operating expenses without receiving new income.

SACS total margin in 2015-2016 was 0 percent, which is an indicator of some risk. Total margin is calculated as net income divided by total revenue, and a total margin that is positive indicates low risk.

Financial Management

The Charter School Office reviewed SACS' 2015-2016 audited financial statements to determine whether the independent auditor observed sufficient internal controls over financial reporting. The audit did not identify any deficiencies in internal controls that could be considered material weaknesses.

English Language Learners	0%	15%	-15	1%	16%	-15	3%
Students with Disabilities	9%	20%	-11	8%	20%	-12	14%

The school enrolls a large low-income population with reportedly one of the highest percentages of students eligible for free and reduced price lunch in the city of Syracuse. The percentage of students with disabilities and English language learners is relatively low when compared with the district, but the school is making outreach efforts⁶⁰ to increase applications from at-risk students, including working with a recruiter and marketing to prekindergarten programs for special needs students. School leaders indicated that their special education and ELL populations are growing and they have hired additional staff to meet students' needs.

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at SACS is 70.68%. The district-wide retention rate in SCSD is 69.86%.

Legal Compliance

SASCS operates in accordance with applicable law, regulations, rules and other policies, including its by-laws and other school-specific policies. It is also in compliance with Federally mandated disciplinary procedures for students with disabilities, and NYS DASA regulations. The board holds meetings in accordance with the Open Meetings Law.

Public Hearing Information

⁵⁸ Enrollment for the 2015-16 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for this school year have been reported by the school.

⁵⁹ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three years of the enrollment record.

⁶⁰ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

The required public hearing was conducted by Syracuse City School Board on November 7, 2016. Six representatives from the school spoke, all positively about the school and its impact on students' lives. No comments in opposition were recorded.

Urban Choice Charter School

In accordance with Education Law, Article 56, Sections 2851(4) and 2852(2), Commissioners Regulation 119.7 and the Board of Regents Charter School Renewal Policy (November 2012), the New York State Education Department (NYSED) recommends a third renewal term for a period of three years for the Urban Choice Charter School. The charter term would begin on July 1, 2017 and expire on June 30, 2020.

UCCS is meeting the academic performance benchmarks and most benchmarks set forth in the Board of Regents Performance Framework, but needs to further strengthen its academic outcomes and good faith efforts to meet subgroup enrollment and retention targets for students who are economically disadvantaged, students with disabilities and English language learners.

UCCS is implementing the mission, key design elements, education program and organizational plan set forth in the charter.

Background

The Board of Regents granted an initial charter to UCCS on January 11, 2005. The school opened in the Rochester City School District on September 1, 2005 with 220 students in Grades K-4. The school added Grades 5-8 in the subsequent academic years.

Summary of Evidence

Key Performance Area: Educational Success

Student Performance

Urban Choice Charter School (UCCS) students demonstrate positive trends toward proficiency on state assessments, surpassing the performance of students in the Rochester City School District (RCSD) and, in English language arts (ELA), reducing the gap with state averages by half over the course of the current charter term. The school’s economically disadvantaged (ED) students and students with disabilities (SWD) demonstrated levels of proficiency that surpassed their RCSD peers, and increased substantially over the term of the charter. With static levels of proficiency in mathematics, UCCS students are not moving toward proficiency at the same rate as in ELA.

Note: Data in Table 2 represents tested students in grades 3-8 at Urban Choice Charter School, Rochester City School District and NYS who scored proficiently (level 3 or above) on each state assessment. This table was created using grade level data to generate the comparative values, the percent difference between the school's performance and the district or state averages. All values were calculated to the nearest whole number, therefore, the percent differences may show a rounded value.

According to the Department's accountability designations for 2015-2016 and 2016-2017, UCCS is a school in Good Standing.

Key Performance Area: Organizational Viability

Financial Condition

UCCS appears to be in good financial condition as evidenced by performance on key indicators derived from the schools independently audited financial statements.

The CSO reviews the financial performance and management of charter schools using quantitative and qualitative methods. Near-term indicators, such as the current ratio (current assets to current liabilities) and unrestricted days cash, are measures of liquidity and of the charter school's capacity to maintain operations. Long-term indicators, such as total margin and debt-to-asset ratio, are measures of the charter school's capacity to remain viable and to meet financial obligations.⁶²

A composite score is an overall measure of financial health calculated by the Department's Office of Audit Services. This score is based on a weighting of primary reserves, equity, and net income. A charter school with a score between 1.5 and 3.0 is considered in strong financial health. UCCS's composite score for 2014-2015 is 2.00. The table below shows the school's most recently available composite scores from 2012-2013 through 2014-2015.

2013-2014	1.20

Financial Management

UCCS appears to be operating in a fiscally sound manner with realistic budgets pursuant to a long-range financial plan, appropriate internal controls and procedures, and in accordance with state law and generally accepted accounting practices. According to the 2015-2016 independent audit report, UCCS had no material weaknesses to their internal controls; however, two main issues were cited surrounding purchase/payment transactions, and verification of goods and services received.

⁶² These rigorous indicators of fiscal soundness are aligned with those recommended by the National Association of Charter School Authorizers.

Key Performance Area: Faithfulness to the Charter and Law

Enrollment, Recruitment and Retention

Table 3: Student Demographics – Urban Choice Charter School Compared to District of Location (Rochester City School District)

	2014-15			2015-16			2016-17 ⁶³
	Percent of Enrollment			Percent of Enrollment			Percent of Enrollment
	School	CSD	Variance	School	CSD	Variance	School
Enrollment of Special Populations⁶⁴
Economically Disadvantaged	81%	92%	-11	79%	91%	-12	90%
English Language Learners	0	13%	-13	2%	13%	-11	4%
Students with Disabilities	13%	19%	-6	12%	20%	-8	11%

For the 2014-2015 and 2015-2016 school year, UCCS has struggled to reach its enrollment targets. While the UCCS enrollment of students in target subgroups does not mirror the enrollment in the district of location, the school has doubled its percentage of ELLs for the current school year and also intensified recruitment efforts.

The school is making good faith efforts⁶⁵ to recruit, serve, and retain all subgroup populations. Current efforts include partnering with a marketing agency to design an improved recruitment strategy. The current recruitment plan includes distributing literature to all city libraries, public markets, churches, stores, Head Start and pre-k sites; participating in such events as the Puerto Rican Festival; establishing professional relationships with BOCES staff members in its ELL department; and partnering with local refugee organizations.

⁶³ Enrollment for the 2016-17 school year is preliminary and therefore cannot be compared to the district. The enrollment figures provided for this school year were reported by the school to CSO in fall 2016.

⁶⁴ Percentages of English language learners and students with disabilities include students who were exited from these services within the last three years of the enrollment record.

⁶⁵ Education Law §2854(2)(a) requires that schools demonstrate good faith efforts to attract and retain a comparable or greater enrollment of students with disabilities, FRPL eligible students and English Language Learners when compared to the enrollment figures for such students in the school district in which the charter is located. SUNY and the Regents were charged with setting specific enrollment and retention targets for each charter school, and have done so. Education Law §2852(9-a)(b)(i). All charter schools that were initially chartered after August 2010 or renewed after January 1, 2011, are expected to meet or exceed the enrollment and retention targets set by the Regents and SUNY. When submitting an application for renewal of the charter, schools are required to provide information detailing the means by which they will meet the enrollment and retention targets (Education Law §2851(4)(e)), and this information is considered by the Regents in the review of the school's performance over the charter term. A school's plan to change its enrollment practices, whether by weighting the lottery or preferencing, may also be considered when determining whether the school will meet the targets in the upcoming charter term. A school's repeated failure to meet or exceed its enrollment and retention targets, when combined with a failure to show that extensive efforts to meet the targets have been made, may be cause for termination or revocation of the charter pursuant to section Education Law §2855(1)(e).

Student Persistence and Attrition

According to NYSED data, the overall student retention rate at UCCS is 73.61%. The district-wide retention rate in Rochester City School District is 65.03%.

Legal Compliance

UCCS has complied with applicable state and federal laws and regulations. It has submitted required reports to the state in a timely manner. The board engaged legal services to review its policies and to ensure that revisions met legal requirements. The board follows the requirements of the Open Meetings Law. No revisions to the charter have been requested during the current charter term.

Public Hearing Information

The required public hearing was held by the Rochester City School District on November 17, 2016. There were two people in attendance and no comments were made in opposition.
